

Moving from A to B

The diagram consists of two large blue rectangles, one on the left and one on the right, representing states A and B. A horizontal line connects the right side of the left rectangle to the left side of the right rectangle. Above this line, the text 'Moving from A to B' is written in a black serif font.